An Exposition of the Aims and Purposes of the "Loyal League."

We have already pointed out the entir mission in the piedge of the "Loyal League" in New York, of all allusions to the Consiste don of the United States. The same piedge tion of the United States. The same pledge is also given claewhere, as we showed in some remarks upon the "Union League" formed in Salem. "Unconditional loyalty to the Government of the United States" is the first principle hid down in these "Leagues," which, however plussible it may sound to the undiscriminating, is neither more nor less than an unconditional serrender of all the rights and privileges of freemen into the hands of the servants of the people who are temporarily in authority; thus totally changing the character of our institutions and making the Republic a despotism.

From this first principle of slavish analysis.

Observe—it is not constitutional efforts—that is rightful efforts, and consequently those likely to be successful; since the object of those would he to restore the Ualon for the benefit of all concerned; but efforts, lawful or not, to subjugate a part, in order to elevate another part. To the first we agree, and it justifies and dignifies war when unavoidable. To the second we utterly object as unlawful, unjust, and sure to effect the ruin of both parties. the ruin of both parties.

the ruin of both parties.

The object evidently is, to carry out the projects of the radical party, and for this purpose to unite as many as choose to associate for this end, so as to break down all opposiof the Constitution, to overshow State Constitutions, to create a single, united power at the North, which shall be under the control of the dictator, or whatever he may be styled, to come—in a single word, to take from us all those checks and balances, resulting from the wise and beneficent contributes of our fathers, in adapting the Constitution of the United States to the rights of the people, already their own under the Constitutions of the several States, and to make a consolidated several States, and to make a consolidated Government, like that of the Czar or the

[Special to the Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, March 30. Washington, March 30.

Some of Gen. Dix's officers report they are satisfied, from various circumstances, that the rebels are preparing to evacuate Richmond, and have already moved large quantities of supplies. These officers believe the show of force in bront of Blooker, and the demonstrations by cavalry in front of Washington and on the Peninsula, are intended to mask the real object; that the bulk of Lee's army are moving away behind the curtain of feints to the West, with the intestion to concentrate in front of Rosecrats, in the hope of being able to drive him back, and to occupy and hold Kentucky. These opinions are not shared by the principal efficers of the Army of the Potomac. General Booker was here to-dry in consul-

General Hooker was here to-dry in consul-tion with the President, Secretary of War and Gen. Hal'eck. He returned to-night. No dispatch has yet been received at the State Department from M. Drouyn de l'Huys in response to Secretary Seward's dispatch respecting Napoleon's proposal to mediate. [Special to the World.]

The work of consolidating decimated regiments has been commenced in the army of the Rappahannock. NEW YORK, March 81.

Colonel Clark, of General Banks' staff, dled of the Injuries which he received near Port A letter from aboard the Richmond says that the report is untrue that she fited into the Mississippl.

A Hiton Head letter says that Beauregard, through a fing of trace, had the impudence to demand the surrender of the steamers Merce dits and Key Stone Saie, which were captured caya Polic's corps, consisting of Cheatham's, writners' and McCowan's divisions, advanced to within 19 miles of Murireesboro.

Scouts affirm that the rebels must attack or fall back, on account of Scaut subsistence.

NEW YORK, March 31. An attack by a cavalry force one hundred strong was made yesterday on our cavalry patrol on the telegraph road between Dum-ries and Occoquan. The party was cap-tared.

An expedition from Hooker's army, under Colonel Fairchild, which was sent out recently to Northern Neck, returned to Belle Plain yesterday. They captured several prisoners and a quantity of pork, bacon, wheat and oals, together with a number of valuable horses and mules, and broke up the ferries at Union wharf and the Rappahaunock.

Col. Fairchild also burned a schooner, enegged in emuggling contraband woods into gaged in amuggling contraband goods into Virginia.

At is quiet on the Rappahannock. The enemy is evidently still in his old camps, though an impression prevails that Lee is preparing to fall back behind the Paminky.

CINCINNATI, March 30. Au extensistic meeting in behalf of the United States Christian Commission for the army and navy, was held to-night. Rev. T. M. R. Thompson, D. D., Rev. B. W. Chidlaw, Rev. A. N. Thompson, D. D., Rev. B. W. Chidlaw, Rev. A N. Thompson, and General Barnside made stirring addresses. The General fully in dorsed the Commission for its labors of love, for the soldier and the sallor. The andience testified its appreciation of the work by a lib-eral contribution.

St. Louis, March 31.

Maj Gen. Herron has been assigned the command of the Army of the Frontier, and will leave for Southwest Missouri to-day to assume command. It is understood that the divisions of this army are to be speedily concentrated for an important expedition against the mem.

DECEPTION OF THE REBELS.—The rebel newspapers have been trying to create the bellef that the iron-clad Indianola, captured by them in the Red river, had been subsequently destroyed by them for fear of falling into our hande again. It was this fear which induced hande again. It was this fear which induced the falsehood; for while our commanders on the Mississippi believed the story, the rebels were busily putting the Indianols in fighting order to make a raid upon our facet at Vickaburg and Port Hudson. Fortunately, Farragut succeeded in running their batteries at Port Hudson with a number of his guuboate, and has since been occupied in looking after the rebel craft in the Mississippi. He discovered the Indianols where the rebels had placed for for the purpose of repairing damages, and
